Original Farmers Market at 3rd and Fairfax - www.farmersmarketla.com

6333 W 3rd St, Los Angeles, CA 90036 ph. 323.933.9211

The Farmers Market offers an array of food stalls, sit-down eateries, prepared food vendors, and produce markets. It also a historic Los Angeles landmark and tourist attraction, first opened in 1934. The Farmers Market features more than 100 restaurants, grocers and tourist shops. Located just south of CBS Television City at the corner of 3rd Street and Fairfax Avenue in the Fairfax District, the Farmers Market is adjacent to The Grove, a beautiful outdoor shopping mall; an electric-powered trolley runs between the two sites.

Hollywood Sign - www.hollywoodsign.org - Great view from: Lake Hollywood (visit website for directions)

It's fitting that the Hollywood Sign, the worldwide symbol of the entertainment industry, was conceived as an outdoor ad campaign for a suburban housing development called "Hollywoodland." After all, despite the high profile of the film biz, real estate has always been Hollywood's primary economic driver. Although the Sign's appearance and purpose have evolved over the years, its basic aspirational message remains the same: This is a place where magic is possible, where dreams can come true.

Mann's Chinese Theater & Hollywood Walk of Fame - www.manntheatres.com/chinese, www.hollywoodchamber.net

It was once stated that "to visit Los Angeles and not see the Chinese is like visiting China and not seeing the Great Wall." Grauman's opulent, awe-inspiring presence and history has been a cornerstone of Hollywood for over 75 years. And right out front, you'll find the Hollywood Walk of Fame. The Walk of Fame is a series of sidewalks along either side of a 15-block segment of Hollywood Blvd and a 3-block segment of Vine Street that serves as a permanent public monument to achievement in the entertainment industry. More than 2,400 5-pointed terrazzo and brass stars are embedded at 6-foot intervals over a combined 1.7 miles. These stars recognize an eclectic mix of actors, musicians, directors, producers, musical and theatrical groups, fictional characters, and others for their entertainment contributions. Head to the Walk and find your favorite star's star!

Runyon Canyon Park (Bring your dog!!) - no web address available

We know there are parks everywhere, but this one offers sweeping views of our unique city, as well as a workout! 160-acre park, Runyon is located at the eastern end of the Santa Monica Mountains. The two southern entrances to the park are located at the north ends of Vista St. and Fuller Ave. in Hollywood. The northern entrance is off the 7300 block of Mulholland Drive. A fire road that is closed to motor vehicles runs through the center of the park, and there are numerous smaller hiking trails throughout the park. Because of its proximity to residential areas of Hollywood and the Hollywood Hills, celebrity sightings are not uncommon. The park is also noted for having a fairly liberal dog policy, with dogs allowed off-leash in 90 of the park's 160 acres.

Located adjacent to Downtown Los Angeles, Dodger Stadium has been the home ballpark of Major League Baseball's Los Angeles Dodgers team since 1962. So head out to the ball game, and be sure to save your appetite for a famous Dodger dog! And if you prefer shopping to baseball, you can always hit the stadium for the L.A. Flea Market! (thelafleamarket.com)

El Rey Theatre - www.theelrey.com

5515 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, CA 90036 ph. 323.323) 936-4790

If you're looking for great live music, you don't have to look far at all! The historic El Rey Theater is located ...just across the street! The El Rey Theater is an original art deco theater in the heart of the Miracle Mile, one of Los Angeles' preserved art deco districts. Built in 1936, the theater spent its first 50 years as a first run movie house. The El Rey was subsequently converted into a live music venue in 1994, and now boasts shows almost nightly. A registered Historic-Cultural Monument, the El Rey has sweeping staircases, an art deco lobby, VIP balcony lounge and a grand ballroom equipped with a full stage.

6360 W Sunset Blvd, Los Angeles, California 90028 ph. 323.464.4226

This beautiful complex boasts not only 14 state-of-the-art theater, but also features the historic Cinerama Dome! There are no ads or movie trivia shown prior to the feature presentations. Additionally, the concessions stands don't just offer Milk Duds and popcorn -- expect to enjoy high-end fare including gourmet chicken sausage on baguettes, decadent chocolates, fresh popcorn with real butter, and caramel corn made on-site. There is also a large lobby area also holds a gift shop with books, magazine, art, clothing items, music, and other entertainment-oriented items, as well as a full-service café and bar, which serves lunch and dinner, and is available with or without purchasing a movie ticket. A smaller bar is located upstairs, which is mainly open on weekends or during special events, and which has a more limited menu. Both feature indoor and outdoor dining areas.

The Grove - www.thegrovela.com

189 The Grove Drive, Los Angeles, CA 90036 ph.323.900.8080

The Grove is L.A.'s best bet for luxury shopping, entertainment or simply to enjoy a Sunday in the sun on the beautifully manicured lawn while you watch the "Dancing Fountain" work its magic! Or catch the newest blockbuster at The Grove Theatres, then take the trolley down to the Farmers Market and grab lunch! Whatever your pleasure, for shopping, dining and simply loving life, The Grove is your ultimate entertainment destination.

Cultural Affairs

LACMA - www.lacma.org

5905 Wilshire Blvd, Los Angeles, CA 90036 ph. 323.857.6000

Encompassing more than 300,000 square feet, its exhibits and lifelike dioramas feature more than 150 rare and classic cars, trucks and motorcycles.

5801 Wilshire Blvd, Los Angeles, California 90036 ph. 323.934.7243

The Page Museum is located at the Rancho La Brea Tar Pits in the heart of L.A., one of the world's most famous fossil localities, recognized for having the largest and most diverse assemblage of extinct Ice Age plants and animals in the world. Learn about Los Angeles as it was between 10,000 and 40,000 years ago, during the last Ice Age, when animals such as saber-toothed cats and mammoths roamed the Los Angeles Basin. Through windows at the Page Museum Laboratory, visitors can watch bones being cleaned and repaired. Outside the Museum, in Hancock Park, life-size replicas of several extinct mammals are featured.

Architecture and Design Museum (A+D) - www.aplud.org

6032 Wilshire Blvd Los Angeles, CA 90036 ph. 323.932.9393

Now located on Los Angeles' Museum Row, A+D continues to be the only museum in Los Angeles where continuous exhibits of architecture and design are on view. Through exhibits, symposia, multi-disciplinary projects, educational and community programming, A+D serves as a showcase for the work of important regional, national and international designers, providing a forum for contemporary issues in architecture, urbanism, and design that are helping to shape the city. Support from corporations, community businesses, foundations and individuals will ensure the continued vitality of what Dwell editor and New York Times contributor Frances Anderton heralded as a "very real force in the city."
